U.S. Heads Into New Crisis In Far East

Question Centers On China Reds

Washington, Nov. 19.—(AP)—The United States is heading into a new period of crisis and possible severe setbacks in its battle with Communism in the Far East.

The central question now coming to a showdown is whether Communism can be contained or will, for the time being, restrict itself within the boundaries of China.

The question becomes more acute daily as Red armies strike through the south toward the borders of French Indo-China and Burma. The fate of Formosa and in some degree of British Hong Kong are uncertain.

Concern over where these armies will stop has long been in the forefront of the consideration of U.S. policy makers. Now the time is approaching rapidly when the issue will apparently be decided in action.

What Will U.S. Do?

What the United States may be prepared to do other than invoke the moral powers of the United Nations to safeguard China's neighbors remains to be disclosed.

In the case of Formosa the present island stronghold of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, there is growing belief here that the United States may not be able to keep it out of Communist hands unless Chiang can hold it.

And Chiang is sitting on top of a very bad situation in which the Formosans, chafing under Chinese rule, might well launch a Communist revolt.

What happens if the Communists conquer all of China proper is in many respects a source of deep concern to Secretary of State Acheson and his Far Eastern brain trust than is the failure of American efforts thus far to spring Consul General Angus Ward from a Chinese Communist jail at Mukden.

What Is U.S. Power In East?

Yet in one sense, responsible officials concede, the worry deals with the same fundamental problem. This is, what real power does the United States have left in Asia as a result of Nationalist China's failure and the subsequent American retreat from China.

The Ward case has dramatically illustrated the complete lack of American influence in regions under Communist control. It has presented to the world the spectacle of the earth's most powerful nation being unable even to negotiate for the release of one of its own top diplomatic representatives.

Trips By Solons To Cost Taxpayers $150,000 This Year

Washington, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Congressional trips to all parts of the world probably will cost taxpayers well over $150,000 this year.

A check today showed that 120 House members and 30 senators either are out of the country, have been, or plan to go.

Exact information on the congressional globe-trotters is difficult to pin down. The popular term for the trips is junkets, but congressmen hate the word because the trips are classed as official business or inspections.

But people who must arrange transportation, issue passports and handle similar details say this year has witnessed probably the greatest exodus of congressmen in history.

"I expect the navy to protest," one stay-at-home congressman said. "Congress is stealing the old recruiting slogan 'Join the Navy and See the World.'"

Although senators and representatives often are touchy about the subject, most of them insist the money is well spent.

Ford Employees Are Promised Pension

Detroit, Nov. 19.—(AP)—The Ford Motor Co.'s nearly 35,000 salaried employees were promised a pension today.

The pension program will be similar to that agreed to earlier between Ford and the CIO United Auto Workers for its 115,000 production workers.

Navy Says Crommelin Case Has Been Closed

Washington, Nov. 19.—(AP)—The Navy high command said today it has "closed" the turbulent case of Captain John G. Crommelin—but the outspoken captain immediately said he hoped Congress would reopen investigation of Pentagon policy.

Commenting on a formal but vigorous reply by Crommelin to the reprimand given him for his sensational part in the inter-service wrangle, Admiral Forrest P. Sherman, chief of Naval operations, said in substance:

1. The case is closed.
2. The letter of reprimand gave Crommelin opportunity to reply; he has replied. That ends the matter. This appeared to preclude possibility that Crommelin would be given a court martial, where he would have opportunity to reopen, through introduction of evidence and witnesses, the whole row.

Crommelin's reply had insisted the reprimand be withdrawn or he be allowed to state his case in a court martial.

The captain, who under Navy law cannot demand a court martial, expressed his "personal welfare is completely unimportant" because "the real issue goes deeper than that."

Then he said: "I strongly hope that Congress will restore the system of checks and balances so necessary for the operation of the defense establishment and our national security."

"It is my fervent hope that the defense establishment will be further investigated by Congress."

Crommelin told reporters today he would abide by the transfer orders issued with the reprimand and would leave here to become an air officer in the western sea frontier headquarters at San Francisco.

Will Test Soil Conservation At Joliet Arsenal

Joliet, Ill., Nov. 19.—(AP)—Part of the Joliet arsenal, used in wartime for the making of explosives, will be turned into a soil conservation "showcase."

That was the report made today by John Galloway of the army engineers, who said 200 of the 28,000-acre installation will be used to test soil conservation practices.

A soil experiment station will be started soon on the arsenal grounds. The first experiment, which will be divided up into 13 test fields, will be conducted with crops which hold water best and prevent loss of surface soil by erosion.

The fields will be laid out with a four per cent slope. Tanks at the bottom will catch and measure the amount of water and silt flowing off each field.

Galloway said that next spring several hundred more acres will be brought into the conservation program.

The hunt for the bomber, lost on a flight to England from March Air Base, Calif., had centered northeast of Bermuda for about 36 hours after two flares and faint radio signals were reported in that area. Search pilots last night reported sighting a trail of debris which might have been from the plane.

The plane, from the Second Squadron of the 22nd Bombardment Group, was one of a group of B-29s being sent to Britain under a rotational training system.

Police Reporter Captures Suspect In Bank Robbery

Stockton, Calif., Nov. 19.—(AP)—A police reporter climbed out of a crashed sheriff's car today and captured a man wanted for questioning in connection with a bank robbery.

Ben Remington, 27, of the Stockton Record, was riding with two sheriff's deputies in pursuit of a car driven by Keith Thomas, 18. Their automobile crashed into Thomas' speeding car on a bridge.

The deputies, Oliver Bailey and Louis Lemon, were knocked unconscious. Remington, although shaken up, seized an officer's rifle and ordered Thomas to surrender.

He held Thomas, who was unhurt, until a car following the deputies drove up with an FBI agent and another sheriff's officer.

Find Cops Helmet On Tallest Spire Of Parliament House

London, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Who put a policeman's helmet on top of the tallest spire of Westminster, home of Britain's parliament?

The spire is 310 feet tall; the last 15 feet without a foothold at all. It was last climbed in 1902.

But there was the lobby's hat when the fog cleared this morning. It took a professional steeplejack all day to put up a series of ladders and take it down. The police want to know who carried up the helmet, and not just solely out of admiration for their athletic prowess.

A telephone caller to the Evening Standard said two madcap medical students were responsible, and that the caller was one of them. He identified himself only as "Henry."

He said his companion was named "Bill." His story:

He and Bill evaded the 24-hour police guard and, while a companion kept watch, climbed to the roof. Then, tied together with a rope, mountaineer fashion, they scaled the slippery, sheer masonry.

Smoke was pouring out of a chimney and they got as black as chimney sweeps. Once a hunk of a decorative stone crown came off in Henry's hand and hit Bill on the ear. It clattered to the ground with an awful noise.

They left the helmet perched on top, with a towel under it to make it more conspicuous.

When they got down, they engaged a policeman in conversation as to the helmet was stolen, the caller said.

18 U.S. Airmen Rescued After 3 Days On Open Sea

Hamilton, Bermuda, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Eighteen U.S. airmen were rescued from rubber life rafts in the Atlantic today after surviving the ditching of a B-29 bomber that killed two of their mates. They had spent three days on the open sea.

The Canadian destroyer Haida took them aboard.

Official announcements in Hamilton, Ottawa and Tampa, Fla., told of the break in an epic search by air and sea.

The hunt started when the bomber crew, with navigation equipment failing and fuel gone, radioed Wednesday morning that it was making a crash-landing.

A B-17 bomber sighted the survivors' two rafts in mid-afternoon about 330 miles northeast of Bermuda and dropped a life boat. Then it summoned surface craft and circled above the men as an aerial guidepost.

The rescuing destroyer, the Haida, was one of three Canadian warships diverted from autumn maneuvers to the search.

The hunt for the bomber, lost on a flight to England from March Air Base, Calif., had centered northeast of Bermuda for about 36 hours after two flares and faint radio signals were reported in that area. Search pilots last night reported sighting a trail of debris which might have been from the plane.

The plane, from the Second Squadron of the 22nd Bombardment Group, was one of a group of B-29s being sent to Britain under a rotational training system.

Denfeld Says Navy Future Depends On Outlook Of Solons

Washington, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Admiral Louis Denfeld, in his final report as chief of naval operations, said the question of how much more the navy shrinks depends on how congress interprets world events.

The navy issued today the annual report written by Denfeld, who was ousted from his job after he and other high ranking admirals had carried their fight against reduction in navy power to Capitol Hill.

Boy, 6, Fatally Wounded By Rifle

Centralia, Ill., Nov. 19.—(AP)—Glen Earl Francois, 6, Centralia school boy, was shot fatally today while playing in a wooden shack in a nearby field.

Police said Glen was one of several boys in the small building which they used as a playtime hideout.

Another group of boys had been shooting at the building with a 22-gauge rifle, police said, apparently believing the shack was unoccupied.

Illinois News Briefs

Chicago, Nov. 19.—(AP)—The AFL American Federation of Grain Millers announced today that it will seek "an adequate pension and insurance system" in its 1950 contract with feed, flour and cereal firms.

The announcement was made by S. P. Minding of St. Louis, International president of the union, at the conclusion of a executive board and scale committee conference.

Alton, Ill., Nov. 19.—(AP)—The Navy's mothball task force of 14 vessels en route from Great Lakes ports to Orange, Tex., arrived at Alton today.

The 10 patrol boats, each 173 feet long, and four 134-foot minesweepers stopped above the treacherous chain of rocks stretch of the Mississippi last night, waiting for daylight before proceeding.

The boats are used to train naval reservists. They started down the Illinois waterway Nov. 12.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—(AP)—It may come as a shock to the old folks, many of whom are still dicker for Thanksgiving turkeys, but Santa Claus came to Chicago today.

It was no freak out-of-season visit. Santa arrived ready for business—especially business for the state street merchants who staged a Mammoth welcome for the old man.

If it was all a plot to whop up a longer Christmas shopping season, no one seemed to mind.

East St. Louis, Ill., Nov. 19.—(AP)—A strike of livestock handlers at the National Stockyards went into its sixth day today with little hope seen for an immediate settlement.

A spokesman for the Producers' Livestock Commission association said negotiations appear temporarily deadlocked. He added that a new meeting between both sides was planned for Monday morning.

An embargo, clamped on incoming shipments at the start of the walk-out last Monday, remained in effect.

U.S., Britain Ask Freedom For Libya And Somaliland

New York, Nov. 19.—(AP)—The United States and Britain today urged quick approval in the United Nations general assembly for a compromise program to start Libya and Italian Somaliland on the road to independence.

Both powers gave strong endorsement to the proposals for disposing of the former Italian colonies in Africa, and expressed confidence in the role that the new Italy would play.

The assembly is holding plenary sessions at Flushing Meadow. At Lake Success, the 59-member special political committee, debating an arms census, was told by the United States:

"The nations of Western Europe are not arming themselves because they are opposed to disarmament. They are rearming themselves and the United States is helping them do so, because they fear the intentions of the Soviet government."

The statement was made by John D. Hickerson, assistant U.S. secretary of state. He replied to Soviet charges that the U.S. opposes extending a census to atomic arms, as proposed by Russia, because it is preparing itself and western Europe for a new war instead of for disarmament.

Barkleys Arrive In Nashville, Tenn.

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 19.—(AP)—The honeymooning Barkleys arrived here today for an overnight stay in Tennessee's capital city.

They came from Paducah, Ky., the vice president's hometown, where he and his bride stayed last night at "Angles," the Barkley home.

The newweds made the trip in a leisurely four and one half hour drive. Upon reaching here they registered at the Andrew Jackson hotel.

'Nice People' Of U.S. Answer Little Jew Boy

Lynn, Mass., Nov. 19.—(AP)—Stinging into hearts and high places across America the other day went this small Jewish boy's question: "Why did my daddy have to die?"

Now it looks as though the "nice people" of America—among them the attorney general of the United States and the commander of the American Legion—have given the boy his answer.

The answer to the question of 11-year-old Laurence Goldstein was not a simple one to make clear to the boy, his mother says, but she now feels that he understands it.

In his own words, she says, the answer to the boy's question of how the son of a dead hero soldier could be beaten and called "Jew" would be this:

"Maybe it's just a few people that could do those things. Maybe they didn't have good worlds."

"Most people in the world are nice people."

That, says Mrs. E. Sylvia Goldstein, World War II widow, is the answer her son has found in response which his question brought in hundreds of letters and telephone calls and public statements across the nation.

The story of the question and how America heard it began last Wednesday when Mrs. Goldstein wrote an open letter to the Lynn Evening Item, a letter which was carried to other newspapers throughout the nation.

The letter said Laurence was set upon by several big boys who "insulted, spat on, beat and kicked my son into the gutter because he was, as they sneeringly said, a Jew." She told the Item that Laurence's father was killed in Germany with an infantry unit.

Her letter added: "Perhaps if such incidents were brought to the attention of the public there would be fewer heartbreaks like the one I mention."

"Maybe then, too, I would know the right answer to give my son when he asks—'Why did my daddy have to die.'"

Attention was paid by the American public and swiftly.

American Legion Commander George N. Craig said in Indianapolis: "All true Americans, whether Catholics, Protestants or Jews, fought to reestablish international law so such outrages should not go unpunished. xxx The law and public opinion are on your side and that of every member of every minority in our land xxx."

The coal walkout lasted 52 days. The steel strike was 42-days-old when the big steel pact unofficially signaled its end.

Of the 513,000 steelworkers who walked out Oct. 1, only 28,950 employees of 28 comparatively small firms are still on strike for the pension-insurance package set up in the pact setting Bethlehem Steel corporation settlement.

President Philip Murray and his steelworkers lieutenants mopped up the bulk of the holdout remnants—involving some 72,000 workers—since big steel signed.

Say Lewis Plans To Start Giving Out Welfare Funds

Washington, Nov. 19.—(AP)—John L. Lewis today was believed to be planning a move to start some welfare funds moving to his miners. He would have a fight on his hands.

The belief was based on his call for a meeting of trustees of the United Mine Workers pension and welfare fund here Monday.

The issue over resuming payments is in the absence of an agreement with the operators, can funds legally be used which they paid in to the welfare fund after the last contract expired July 1?

Senator Bridges (R-N.H.) said that he and the third trustee of the United Mine Workers welfare fund, Charles I. Dawson, had been summoned by Lewis for the session. Dawson is the new representative of the coal operators in the fund. Bridges is a neutral member, and the third trustee is Lewis.

U.S. Industry Near Capacity 1 Week After Strikes End

Pittsburgh, Nov. 19.—(AP)—America's industrial wheels are a-humming again—a week after the end of the nation's first twin steel and coal strikes.

The industry-feeding mines and mills have whipped their output up to near capacity. In some cases production records have been broken.

Pittsburgh—staggered by the double-barreled walkout which virtually clogged its economic life blood—has bounced back to good retail business health.

John L. Lewis ordered his UMW soft coal miners back to work Nov. 9. The U. S. Steel corporation and the CIO United Steelworkers signed a strike-ending contract two days later.

The coal walkout lasted 52 days. The steel strike was 42-days-old when the big steel pact unofficially signaled its end.

Of the 513,000 steelworkers who walked out Oct. 1, only 28,950 employees of 28 comparatively small firms are still on strike for the pension-insurance package set up in the pact setting Bethlehem Steel corporation settlement.

President Philip Murray and his steelworkers lieutenants mopped up the bulk of the holdout remnants—involving some 72,000 workers—since big steel signed.

Says Profit Made In Selling House Shouldn't Be Taxed

Chicago, Nov. 19.—(AP)—A person who sells his home for more than it cost him should not be taxed on the profit if he uses the money to buy another, the Illinois Manufacturers' Association contended today.

In a program recommending various changes in the present federal tax program, the association's directors said:

"In the efficient utilization of personnel, housing is still a serious problem. An employee may be reluctant to move to another location xxx by reason of that problem. The employee may be required to give up an established home."

"Under existing laws he is compelled to pay a profit from the sale of his home while at the same time using the sales price for the purchase of a new home. The latter may be purchased under inflated conditions, and notwithstanding a larger investment, may not be comparable to the home which he has sold. In making the move the employee sustains considerable financial loss."

Senator Bridges (R-N.H.) said that he and the third trustee of the United Mine Workers welfare fund, Charles I. Dawson, had been summoned by Lewis for the session. Dawson is the new representative of the coal operators in the fund. Bridges is a neutral member, and the third trustee is Lewis.

Detroit Official Says Sen. Hooper Murder Is Solved

Detroit, Nov. 19.—(AP)—The State Senator Hooper murder, one of Michigan's most sensational crimes, is solved, said a Detroit police official today.

Inspector George Kimball said he believed, on the basis of lie detector tests, that the story of the slaying told by two convicts was true.

But State Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard declined to second the statement. He said he did not consider results of the investigation so far conclusive.

"We are not contemplating asking a warrant at this time," he said.

For almost five years, state police have been working constantly on the Hooper case. The gangland-style slaying of state senator, Warren G. Hooper, key witness in a graft investigation, was the climax of a far-reaching political scandal.

Police have believed it was the work of the notorious purple gang. But clues have been elusive.

UN Group Meets For 5th Session

Washington, Nov. 19.—(AP)—The United Nations food and agriculture organization said today that northern hemisphere harvests have turned the tide against postwar world starvation.

But food production, it said, still lags far behind world needs.

The report, to be presented to the fifth session of the FAO annual conference convening here Monday, emphasized the gap between the living standards of rich countries and poor ones.

"The trend over the last decade," it said, "has been that the well fed of 10 years ago are better off than before, and the poorly fed, for the most part, worse off."

Solve Food Problem

Representatives of 58 countries are gathering here to see if they can find some way of getting farm surpluses to the hungry to help solve the world's food problems.

The meeting will be held at a time when some countries are turning to crop control measures to prevent surpluses, despite the fact that much of the world is undernourished. This situation exists largely because shortage areas do not have the money to buy surpluses of other areas.

The conference holds particular significance to the United States, because it is one of the big food producing countries which is adopting restrictive measures to prevent the accumulation of unmarketable surpluses.

The FAO report said that the nations of the world face two big problems in their battle against hunger. Supply Underdeveloped Areas

One was said to be the need for supplying underdeveloped areas technical aid aimed at helping them increase their own food production. The other was described as the need to clear the way for expanded trade in farm products. Standing in the way of such expansion, the report said, are currency barriers.

FAO director-General N. E. Dodd, former U.S. undersecretary of agriculture, will lay before the conference a plan for making surpluses help relieve hunger.

His plan calls for creation of a world food bank or clearing house. In broad outline, the clearing house would be like a public corporation, with a $5,000,000,000 capital contributed by participating countries.

Lincoln's Speech At Gettysburg Park Is Reenacted

Gettysburg, Pa., Nov. 19.—(AP)—Once again, Abraham Lincoln's immortal Gettysburg address was recited here today.

The 266 words comprising the martyred president's speech were spoken at the Gettysburg National Battlefield park from the same spot Lincoln spoke 86 years ago today.

The blue Civil War uniforms of the Sons of Union Veterans life and drum corps contrasted with the khaki-clad Pennsylvania national guardsmen during a dedication of the battlefield where 50,000 Union and Confederate soldiers were killed or wounded in the decisive battle of 1863.

Dr. Walter Coleman, superintendent of the Gettysburg National park, repeated the measured words . . . "Four score and seven years ago" . . . Hundreds of caddy spectators listened.

Afterwards, Lt. Gen. John C. H. Lee, who commanded European supply services during World War Two, called upon "all Christians to be dedicated in their faith—the faith of our fathers."

"Is this not what Lincoln really meant when he spoke here?" He asked. "We Christians must seek the brotherhood of all man. That is what Lincoln sought."

PLANE CRASHES IN STREET

Malden, Mass., Nov. 19.—(AP)—A single-engine airplane crash-landed in a downtown street, struck a moving automobile and burned today but neither its two occupants nor the car's driver suffered serious injury.

The plane, owned by Revere Airlines, Inc., was piloted by William F. Mullen, 20, of East Boston, and carried Herbert F. Donahue of Malden as a passenger.

GERMANY SEEN AS THE KEYSTONE TO THE REBUILDING OF EUROPE

The foreign ministers of Britain and France and Secretary of State Dean Acheson have agreed that the Western German government should be admitted to the fledgling Council of Europe.

If this accord is translated into reality, it will mean a totally new departure in European politics. It will be the first time that France has consented to accept Germany—or any part thereof—as anything less than a potential enemy.

The French will not arrive at this position easily. They will undoubtedly retain deep misgivings about the future intentions of Germany. Fear of their eastern neighbor is bred in the French.

But that fact will only emphasize the new spirit of co-operation exhibited by France. How much of this spirit stems from a fresh courage and how much from a greater fear of menacing Russia, no one can be sure.

The Russian threat admittedly has been a prime welding force in Europe since early postwar days. There can be little question that the western powers would not be drawn as closely together as they are today had not that threat existed.

It is certainly the view of the British, French and American leaders that bringing Western Germany more fully into their orbit will put Russia at a further disadvantage in Europe. Thus regarded, the action is the latest western move in the cold war. Planning the joint military defense of Western Germany probably will be one sequel to an incorporation of this territory in the Council of Europe.

Yet the step would have to be considered as more than a maneuver within the relatively narrow field of cold war strategy. Should it come to pass, it will amount to recognition that Germany is a key element in any sound long-range plans for the restoration of Western Europe's economic and political health.

This acknowledgment is being made grudgingly, not alone by France but by Britain. At the moment, the French seem to be facing the fact more honestly than the British. The French are showing a receptive attitude toward the idea of economic integration with Germany, but the British are lukewarm. Consequently progress on the economic side may be slow.

But if advances can be made toward both the political and economic federation of Western Germany with France and Britain, then the likelihood of lasting recovery in Europe will be immensely enhanced. Furthermore, Germany itself will be placed on a more solid footing than it now has.

That a healthy, well-integrated Western Europe will be far better able to stand off the Russians is a prospect that none of the three leaders who met at Paris is likely to overlook. But the objective is one that recommends itself as desirable even were there no menace of communism.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Cases Of Heart Murmur Should Be Carefully Checked

By Edwin P. Jordan, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

The heart has four chambers which contain blood. When the muscular walls of these chambers contract, the blood is pushed from one chamber into the other. Valves are present inside the heart which keep the blood from flowing back into the chamber from which the blood has just been expelled. If the valves fail to hold the blood back as they should, some goes the wrong way. When the doctor listens over the heart in such cases, he hears a sort of rushing sound which is called a murmur.

For example, in some children the growth of the heart and the valves between the heart chambers do not quite keep in step so that a slight murmur can be heard even when the valves are really normal. This kind of murmur is "functional" and is not serious. It disappears as the youngster grows older.

More serious are the murmurs which come from abnormal valves which are defective either because the child was born that way or from disease. The valve deformities present at birth are comparatively rare and can usually be discovered quite early. Most of the valve troubles which cause murmurs in childhood and youth are caused by rheumatic fever. Even this, however, can be so mild that nothing serious ever develops.

Calls For Rest
Rheumatic fever injures the heart valves by causing growths on the lips or cusps of the valves so that they cannot close completely. If the damage to the heart valves has been severe, the murmur may mean that physical activity has to be curtailed. However, in many cases the growths are small and not active and even though they have produced enough damage to cause a murmur to be heard, the heart is able to do its job without trouble.

In each case the cause of a murmur should be investigated. Merely hearing a murmur in the heart, however, does not always mean that ordinary exercise has to be eliminated, or that a shorter life is in the cards.

Note: Dr. Jordan is unable to answer individual questions from readers. However, each day he will answer one of the most frequently asked questions in his column.

Santa's House Ready; He'll Be Here Friday

Santa Claus' holiday house was set up Saturday in Central park, but he wasn't at home.

The Jolly Old Gent, with chuckles for everyone and candy for the children, will put in his appearance next Friday afternoon, Nov. 25, at 2 p. m.

How he will arrive is not generally known. But officials of the Retail Division of the Chamber of Commerce promise something out of the ordinary when Santa Claus comes to town. They'll smile and drop a few hints, without divulging what's on the program. Indications are that Santa's arrival will be the most spectacular he has ever made in this city.

The snug little "candy house" for Santa Claus has been set up east of the soldier and sailors monument in Central park. Workmen Saturday were getting the $1,000 plywood structure in readiness for its occupant, who will be on hand each shopping day from Friday, Nov. 25, until Christmas.

The house, decorated to resemble candy sticks and canes, has been in storage during the past year.

Street decorations for the Christmas season will be put up Sunday by members of the Jacksonville Lions club, who volunteered their services. Light poles throughout the business district will be decorated with 36 inch evergreen wreaths centered with appropriate holiday plaques.

Eight large Christmas designs will be placed at the four entrances of Central park. Christmas carols will be played daily over sound equipment.

Home Bureau Unit Meets At Glasgow

Two Union Services On Thanksgiving Eve
The Jacksonville Ministerial Association is planning for a great united Thanksgiving service Wednesday evening, November 23rd, at the First Baptist church.
Since there will be no other major community activity on that evening to compete with this event, the ministers of the cooperating churches are expecting more than 1,000 people to participate.
To take care of such a large crowd, two services are being arranged and will be held in the same church, the first at 7 o'clock and the second at 8:15.
Rev. Leslie Houston, pastor of the Central Christian church, will preach at both services and the order of worship repeated.
All local citizens are invited to join in this observance of National Thanksgiving.

Purpose of Kids Day Explained By Kiwanis Speaker
In observance of National Kids Day, an annual event sponsored this year for the first time jointly by Kiwanis International and National Kids Day Foundation, Paul Hartman, Y.M.C.A. secretary, outlined a program of positive action in this community to promote child welfare.
Speaking at the club's regular meeting Thursday, Hartman proposed a program of group activities specially designed for boys and girls who need the benefit of the right kind of group experience. "These groups must be kept small and we must have the finest possible leaders for them," he declared.
Hartman, himself a Kiwanian and a member of the club's Youth Service committee, said that the program would be worked out upon a cooperative basis with the schools, churches and homes. An important part of the scheme is to attempt to coordinate the efforts of various agencies interested in the same goals.
Schools Cooperate
The school authorities have agreed to cooperate by selecting the boys and girls who are in need of group training. Leadership talent is available at the colleges and elsewhere in the community. The "Y" will train group leaders, provide facilities, where possible, and keep records on the individual children participating, and members of Kiwanis will lend their support financially and by helping group leaders.
Hartman visualized the program as one which could steadily expand in scope and really serve to meet the problems of children in the greatest need of help.
Dr. Louis Belinson, managing officer of the Jacksonville State hospital, and William Schildman of the Farmers State Bank and Trust company were recently inducted as new members of the Kiwanis club.

WOMAN'S COUNCIL MEETS
An interesting program was presented at the November meeting of the Woman's Council of Central Christian church. Mrs. Leslie Houston was devotional leader. Special music was by Mrs. J. T. Chandler. Rev. Daniel Kerr was the speaker, using as his topic "Evangelism."

Soviet Scientists Plan To Pump Fish Out Of The Ocean

By Tom Whitney
Moscow, Nov. 19 — (P) — Soviet scientists are experimenting in methods of commercial fishing without nets.

The fish pump is a device widely used in the Soviet Union for rapidly emptying holds of fishing vessels of their catch, saving valuable time and labor force.

It pumps the fish and considerable quantities of water out of the fishing vessel into containers on the shore. This device has found use outside the Soviet Union although Soviet technical publications claim credit for its invention for Russian scientists.

Project Outlined
The project for the wider use of the fish pump in fishing itself was outlined by Laureate of the Stalin prize and candidate of technical sciences, M. F. Chernigin, who comes from Petropavlovsk on Kamchatka where fishing is a major industry. Chernigin is recognized as an authority on fish pumps.

Chernigin's project, which he stressed was in the research stage, involves the use of large fish pumps and of acoustic detection of schools of fish and electric current to attract the fish to the submerged pump.

He said his research indicated fish will swim up an electrical current in the water in the same way that they will swim against an actual water current.

The article said a fish pump by itself, no matter how powerful and even if it is placed in the midst of a school of fish, will only drive the fish away because they will swim away from the water current leading to its mouth.

Seized By Suction

On the other hand, said Chernigin, if the submerged pump mouth is made an electrode for direct electrical current flow under water and other electrodes of the opposite pole are placed strategically around it the fish in the line of flow will swim along the electrical current into the pump's mouth.

At this point they will be seized by the pump's suction and carried together with quantities of water into the ship where the fish will be stored and the water ejected.

Acoustic detection, said Chernigin, will enable the fishing vessel to locate schools of fish into which to submerge this apparatus.

EVANGELIST TO END CAMPAIGN IN CONCORD

Concord—Rev. John C. Kastelein, evangelist who has held services in the village hall for the past two weeks, will conclude a campaign Sunday evening in the Concord Christian church in conjunction with baptismal services. He has announced there will be no Saturday evening service, as he will be in Peoria at a Youth For Christ rally. He and his family will return Sunday for the final night of services.

Mrs. Peak, art instructor for schools in Unit 27, has resumed teaching duties after being absent for some time due to illness. Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Dufemeier of Concord returned to their home Saturday night after attending the funeral of Mrs. Dufemeier's aunt, Mrs. Emma Ring of Hunting, Ind., which was held there last Thursday morning. While there they visited other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Venner Thompson and daughter, Dona Marie, are visiting relatives in Amasaw, Mich.

Mrs. Ben Grote, who has been a guest in the home of R. E. Nickel, left this week to visit with her sister, Mrs. Everett Mason, before returning to her home in Tiffin, Ohio. Mrs. Grote was called here last week by the death of her brother, C. O. Nickel.

Friends Come In Handy For Painter Paul Cadmus In 'Seven Deadly Sins'

By W. G. ROGERS
Associated Press Arts Reporter

New York, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Intimate and prolonged study of the seven deadly sins, says painter Paul Cadmus, "might, I thought, make a better man of me, but I'm just as bad as I was to begin with."

That isn't very bad, it's easy to see in a talk with him. However, he may manage to make better men out of the rest of us, it is easy to see after a look at his paintings of the deadly sins; they make you like painting all the more, but sinning all the less.

The pictures, which go on exhibition Nov. 23 in the midtown galleries, are likely to stir up as much controversy as Cadmus' work has done regularly in the past. This will be only his second one-man show of oils; the first was in 1937, but by that time he was already widely known for pictures of girls with sailors, and very unfair he was to sailors, the navy complained.

Began In 1944

He was 40, in 1944, when he started the present series, and he thought it was time to take stock and also to tackle a big project. He had been taking notes about the deadly sins for some time. "I know no one who is free of them," he said, and adds: "In every case friends of mine have come in handy. But the most useful object of study was myself, and in a way the series is autobiographical."

Cadmus lists the seven deadly sins as pride, lust, envy, gluttony, sloth, anger and avarice... in Roman Catholic theology, the last two are identified as wrath and covetousness.

Must Guess Them

In the exhibition the various sins will not be identified; Cadmus thinks visitors will be more interested in guessing which is which, or in letting their conscience be their guide. He hopes the series will go entirely to one purchaser; and though he is not optimistic about it, he further hopes the purchaser will be a church. He started with lust, for which he did several preliminary drawings.

but "as I got more used to the sins, I found that one drawing usually sufficed." He works slowly, usually only three or four finished pictures a year; and this series, with occasional interruptions for other work, has been a five-year job.

Places Pride First
The worst sins, he says, are those which do the most harm to others. He places pride at the head of the list. A poet friend of his suggested that, for this one, he simply put a frame around a mirror and let pride confront its own image. The difficulty was to intensify his interpretation beyond mere vanity, which seems to him comparatively innocent.

Though lust enjoys a considerable ill fame, Cadmus regards it as not too harmful. Gluttony hurts no one but the glutton. Lust is more common among men, sloth among women, he finds. And he has a particularly low opinion of avarice, "the loneliest of all sins." For an eighth sin, he suggests immorality, but he believes it's really the evil part of the other seven.

A native and resident of New York, Cadmus has not decided what he will do next. It will probably not be the cardinal virtues, which he thinks would not be so interesting a project. Anyway, he might not be able to locate models.

WATER JUG'S A FIRE BUG

Percy, Ill.—(AP)—Roy Meyerhoff theorizes that many farm haystack fires can be traced to the old water jug. He got the idea while trying to find out what caused his jacket to burn on his farm near here one sunny day.

He figured he had the answer when he moved his hand past his water jug near the jacket. The sun's rays focused by the jug—like a magnifying glass—burned his hand.

He believes many haystack fires probably can be traced to the common practice of farmers leaving their jugs on haystacks while they work.

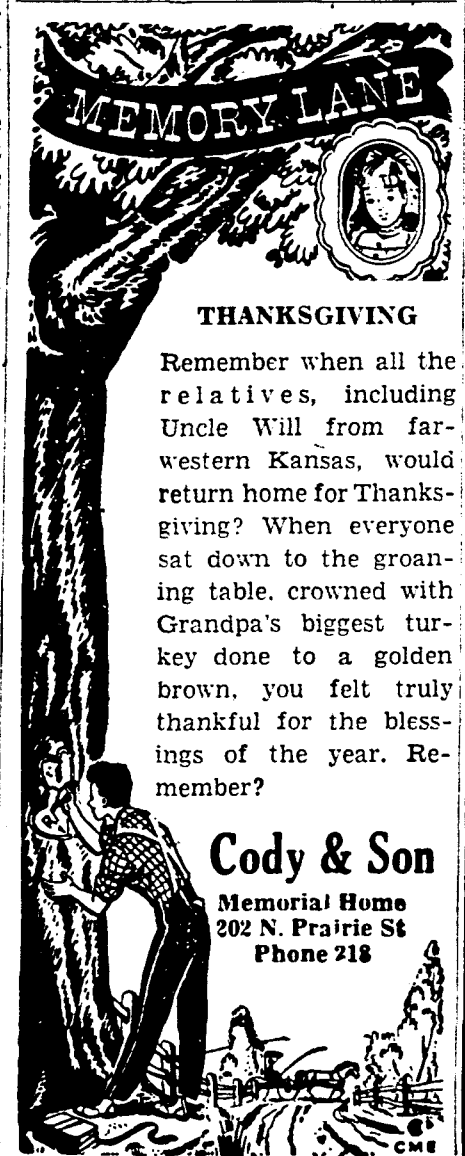

Greene Co. Couple Wed At Hillview

White Hall—Ferris Baker, who is home on leave from the navy and visiting relatives in the Hillview vicinity, was united in marriage on Nov. 5 to Miss Marjorie Coonrod of Carrollton, at the residence of the Rev. Victor DeShea in Hillview.

The couple was attended by Mrs. Wanda Chapman and Wayne Leonard, both of Hillview.

The bride wore a brown dress with a corsage of white gardenias and her attendant wore a violet dress with a yellow gardenia corsage.

The groom is to report for duty after Nov. 20 at his base in Virginia where his bride will join him in the near future.

HUDSON PACEMAKER IS MONOBILT

Shown in phantom view is the new Pacemaker's all steel Monobilt body-and-frame with recessed floors. This box-section frame, built into the body and encircling the rear wheels, is welded into a single unit, providing girder protection all around the passengers. This exclusive Hudson construction permits recessing the floor down within the frame, utilizing the space between frame members as the "step-down" zone. A lower roof line is permitted without reducing passenger compartment height or decreasing head room. Recessed floor and lowered roof, together with passenger compartment which has been moved forward, result in a car only five feet high, having the lowest center of gravity in any American stock car.

Deaf Son Of King Learns To Talk In Four Languages

London, Nov. 19.—(P)—After 41 years as a deaf mute, the second son of the late King Alfonso XIII of Spain has learned to talk—in four languages.
He is ex-prince Don Jaime de Bourbon, Duke of Segovie, eldest brother of ex-Prince Don Juan, to whom he relinquished claim to the Spanish throne in 1933.
Don Jaime has been unable to hear or make sounds since birth. An Italian professor whom he declines to name has taught him to speak. Now he hopes of being made to hear as well. He abandoned his claim to the throne because of the affliction.
Elder Brother Dead
Don Jaime is six feet, two inches tall and handsome. His elder brother, Prince of Asturias, suffered from "the curse of Bourbons"—hemophilia or uncontrollable bleeding even from slight wounds. He died of hemorrhage after a motor crash.
The story of his struggle to talk was told today by lovely blonde Charlotte Tiedeman, 26-year-old German opera singer, the Duke married last August in Switzerland.
"In Rome, on our honeymoon," she said, "we learned of a professor who might help. We asked him to visit us in Vienna."
"The professor examined the Duke and said, with proper treatment, he would both hear and talk," the duchess continued.
"It came true!"
Voice Is Low
"First my husband practiced mouthing words. I showed him how to form them with his lips. It took a long time but finally the words came. He began with a few words of Spanish. Then he learned some Italian and French. And now—English."
The Duke demonstrated his power to talk to reporters. He speaks with difficulty and his voice is almost inaudible. But, it is possible, by listening closely, to get the meaning. He has long been a master of lip reading.

PLANE REPORTS ASKED
Washington.—(P)—The Civil Aeronautics Administration and the armed forces have called upon the public to report cases of "buzzing" or reckless flying by any pilot.
Administrator D. W. Rentzel says reports should be made to the Aeronautics Administration's nearest office, which usually will be found listed in the telephone directory under "United States Government." It's important to get plane number if possible.

MARRIAGE IS MENDING—Set to try again to make a go of their stormy Hollywood marriage are actor Audie Murphy, "most decorated World War II soldier," and his actress wife, Wanda Hendricks. The couple is seen relaxing over morning coffee on a ranch near Dallas.

St. Louis Blues Composer Marks 76th Birthday

By Mark Barron
New York, Nov. 19.—(P)—W. C. Handy, father of "The St. Louis Blues" and patron saint of the whole school of those melancholy and happy rhythms, marked his 76th birthday this week by publishing a new book of the most representative work of all blues composers.
Although blind for several years, the talented Handy begins his 77th year with as much elan as when he first began to play a cornet in his youth in Alabama. He continues as active head of Handy Brothers Music Publishing Co., Inc. Despite his blindness, he makes frequent appearances at benefits and concerts to play on his golden trumpet his immortal "St. Louis Blues."
Only a few months ago he came on after dozens of topflight Broadways and Hollywood stars at a benefit performance for the American National Theater and Academy at the Ziegfeld Theater and won a 20-minute ovation from the audience of celebrities.

His "A Treasury of the Blues," (Simon and Schuster) has an historical and critical text by Abbe Niles and drawings by Miguel Covarrubias. It includes the complete words and music of 67 notable blues songs from 1912, when Handy's "Memphis Blues" first appeared, until the present day.

Two Kinds Of Blues
The Blues, Handy says, first became popular in the early 1900's. There were melancholy blues and happy blues. They generally were in a three-line, twelve-bar pattern, rather than the two or four line eight or sixteen bar pattern of simulative head of Handy Brothers.

It was in 1910 that these Negro folksongs, known variously as work songs, love songs, devil songs, the over-and-overs, slow drags, pats, stomps and spirituals, began to weld themselves together in a form of separate music recognized as the blues. Handy was the first musician to begin gathering these several varieties of songs into a lasting component; to do the research needed to make them a single stable school of music.

Miss Eleanor Flynn Weds Charles R. Cox

Church Ceremony Saturday Morning Unites Couple

The marriage of Miss Eleanor M. Flynn, daughter of Mrs. Cathryn Flynn, 418 Sherman street, and Charles R. Cox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Cox, 303 East Walnut street, was solemnized in a double-ring ceremony Saturday morning at nine o'clock in the Church of Our Saviour.

Mums in fall colors, arranged amidst a setting of ferns and enhanced by candlelight, provided a lovely background for the wedding rites, which were performed by Rev. Father Joseph Kromaker, who was also celebrant of the nuptial Mass which followed. The acolytes were Leo Flynn brother of the bride and Laurence McGuire, cousin of the bride.

A 15 minute recital of wedding selections was played by Mrs. Alta Eisch, church organist. "Marche Nuptiale" was used for the processional.

Serving as maid of honor was Miss Jeanette Decker of Minneapolis, Minn., Mrs. Gerald Flynn, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. The bridegroom was attended by James Scanlon as best man and Gerald Flynn, groomsmen. Ushers were Benny Nunes, cousin of the bridegroom, and Joe Lauritzen of Chicago, cousin of the bride.

Wears Velvet Gown
White chiffon-back velvet fashioned the gown worn by the bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Edmund Flynn. The gown was styled with fitted bodice, bateau neckline, sleeves tapering to points over the wrists and bouffant skirt with tunic effect at the waistline flowing into a graceful train.

Her fingertip veil was of lace-edged illusion, held in place with a tiara of pearlized orange blossoms. As her only jewelry, she wore a double strand of pearls. The bridal bouquet was of white mums and carnations.

The attendants wore gowns of brocade taffeta and matching ruffled, with bouquets and headbands of mums. Miss Decker's gown was of jewel green and her flowers were lavender, while Mrs. Flynn wore lavender and carried yellow mums.

The two flower girls, Viki Thompson, niece of the bridegroom, and Colleen Flynn, niece of the bride, were attired in floor length gowns of white marquisette, trimmed with pink and blue ribbons, respectively. They each wore a headband of mums and carried a basket of petals.

Old rose crepe with navy blue accessories was worn by the bride's mother. The bridegroom's mother chose a dress of navy with matching accessories. Both had corsages of pink carnations.

Reception Follows
Following the ceremony, a reception for members of the wedding party and close friends and relatives was given at the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Flynn, 134 Prospect street.

A three-tiered cake was cut by the couple and served with other refreshments by Mrs. Paul Thompson, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Rosemary Flynn, sister of the bride, Mrs. Edmund Flynn, the bride's sister-in-law, and Miss Bertha Nelson of Franklin.

The color scheme was yellow and white. Fall flowers were also included in the decorations.

The couple then left on their wedding trip. The bride wore for traveling a forest green suit, with accessories of winter white and a corsage of mums. Upon returning, Mr. and Mrs. Cox will reside on Allen street.

The bride attended Routt High school and is employed at the Meadow Gold company. Her husband, who attended Jacksonville High school, is employed at the Illinois Steel Bridge company.

Courage Has Helped Commander Russell Overcome Handicaps

Harold Russell, national commander of Amvets, will be the guest of honor at the World War II veterans' reunion to be held on Monday, November 21st in Jacksonville. His appearance is being planned to coincide with the nation-wide membership drive being conducted by the Amvets, the only congressionally chartered World War II organization. A parade and banquet have been scheduled.

Commander Russell is considered by many to be the outstanding example of the rehabilitated veteran of World War II. His is not the story of a professional soldier but rather the story of the man in the ranks who overcame a physical handicap incurred in the conflict. Prior to entering service, he was employed in many jobs including weighman and meat cutter in a chain-store market. After the outbreak of hostilities, like so many others, he enlisted and eventually was assigned to the paratroopers, where he was given the job of instructor. Thus far his story paralleled that of millions of other soldiers.

Injured By Explosion

The turning point in his life came on D-Day, the day of the European invasion. That afternoon, during his routine instruction period, which was devoted to "booby traps," the missile of the student trainee did not discharge. The rule had been given that in that event, the instructor would regain the missile and explain the faulty mechanism. However, on that day, as Commander Russell, then Sergeant Russell, attempted to retrieve the missile, it exploded, shattering both of his hands completely. That explosion changed the entire course of Harold Russell's life.

As Commander Russell has pointed out in his autobiography entitled "Victory in My Hands," no one can ever realize the mixed emotions of a person, who realizes that he has lost not one, but both hands. The future gave little promise of anything but being a helpless cripple. Weeks and months passed and Russell began to learn to use the mechanical metal hands referred to as "hooks." The lessons were long and painful. The Army, watching his progress, however, regarded his mastery of the "hook" so remarkable that they urged him to make a training film, which might encourage other amputees. The result of that filming, was the Signal Corps film, "Diary of a Sergeant."

Wins Academy Award
Upon his discharge from the service, his life became public with his performance in the academy winning motion picture, "The Best Years of Our Lives." His sincere performance won him not one, but two Academy Awards, those coveted gold statuettes signifying outstanding performances. Recently he has completed his autobiography, "Victory in My Hands," which is on the best-sellers lists. He has been the inspiration for the successful recovery of many of our amputees.

His visit to Jacksonville on Monday is made possible through the efforts of the Illinois Department of AMVETS and Jacksonville Post 100 and the Third District Commander, Willard Manning of Springfield.

Other points to be visited during this current tour are Rockford on November 18, Granite City on November 19, Dixon and Moline on November 20th. PUT OUT GRASS FIRE

The Jacksonville fire department was called to the residence of Mrs. Ada Ryman, 322 West Douglas avenue, at 10:05 a.m. Saturday to extinguish a grass fire.

The firemen permitted the fire to burn itself out and stood by to protect adjacent property. No damage resulted.

New York Stock Market

New York, Nov. 19.—(AP)—The stock market ambled along a narrow price range today after a snappy three-day rise.

Most price changes were upward. Gains were small, though, and a wide variety of shares either remained at Friday's closing levels or backed down a little. Few stocks moved more than fractionally.

Business started off with a rush but quieted as soon as overnight orders were disposed of. Turnover ran at a rate of 600,000 shares for the two hour session.

Railroad stocks did fairly well, with higher prices paid for Santa Fe, N. Y., Central, Southern Railway, Baltimore & Ohio, Chesapeake & Ohio, and Union Pacific. This group has caused observers some concern because it has failed to keep up with the rest of the market in an advance that started in mid-June.

United Aircraft gained around 1 point, evidently in response to news that the company's Pratt & Whitney division had been awarded a $10,000,000 government contract.

Corporate bonds moved narrowly.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

Chicago, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Hogs were quoted nominally steady today, ending a week of sharply declining prices in response to the heaviest marketings in more than five years. Top was $15.75. Cattle and sheep also held steady.

As the week closed average price of barrows and gilts here was $15.25, or 20 cents under the government guide for the week. However, the guide is a weekly average based on seven markets. Actual average price for all of the week will not be known until Monday.

The government guide will drop to $14.05 next week. These guides represent prices which should be obtained at seven markets each week to assure a $15.00 or better support price for hogs at farm markets during the month. Because prices were well above the guide earlier this month, no immediate pork buying by the government will be necessary, livestock men said.

The approach of the Thanksgiving holiday, with its consequent consumer attention on poultry, was considered partly responsible for unsettled and mostly lower cattle and sheep markets this week. Prime steers topped at $40.75. Weighty lambs sank $2.00 to $20.00.

ALL GRAINS MOVE UP IN CHICAGO

Chicago, Nov. 19.—(AP)—All grains moved upward in heavy dealing on the Board of Trade today, paced by corn. The yellow cereal had gains extending to 2 cents at times. De-

Find Live Duck In Engine Hood Of B-26 Bomber

Elgin Air Force Base, Fla., Nov. 19.—(AP)—How did a live duck get inside the engine hood of an air force bomber which flew here from California?

The battered mallard was removed from the engine cowling of a B-26 Invader this week. The Elgin Public Relations office surmised that the plane, flying at 220 miles an hour, overtook the duck which was cruising at a slower speed. Somehow the duck zipped through or around the B-26's propellers, which were revolving 16 times a second.

The mallard should have been chopped into duckburgers. Instead, it came through minus a few feathers and with a bent beak. It was turned loose after three days and promptly sped away.

Irish Machine Rolls Over Iowa 28 To 7

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 19.—(AP)—Notre Dame's football giant, suddenly became its monstrous self Saturday to grind out two long touchdown marches which crushed Iowa's hustling Hawkeyes 28-7.

For the first time this season, the Irish needed the breaks of the game to keep ahead. It wasn't until Iowa tied in the last minute of the third period that Notre Dame mustered its typical power for the momentum needed to roll through its 36th game without defeat.

Coach Frank Leahy's mighty men, a bit overconfident in this blustery, chilly day, wrested their eighth straight victory of the season and first successive win at home before 36,790 spectators.

Score: Each Period

Notre Dame punched a touchdown in each period, and Steve Oraco placekicked the point after each. Iowa tied the count 7-7 at the outset of the second. Although trailing 14-7 at halftime, the Hawkeyes had outdistanced Notre Dame 111 yards to 55.

The Irish meeting a finely-coached, stubborn Iowa line, and rocked by the running of Jerry Fiske, the Brooklyn bullet, had to go full throttle all the way for the eventual decisive edge. It was perhaps the first time this season, Leahy did not have to fret about keeping the score down—he was too busy worrying whether he could get it up.

Leahy, who previously thought Michigan State had given his team its toughest battle of the campaign (Notre Dame won 34-21), heaped praise on the Hawkeyes.

"I think Coach Eddie Anderson, his assistant Frank Carideo and all other coaches did a fine job of preparing Iowa," Leahy said after the contest "it was the best team we played all fall."

Anderson and Carideo just happen to be two of Notre Dame's favorite sons. Anderson was the late Knute Rockne's team captain when Iowa surprised the Irish 10-7 in 1921.

Today's win was the fifth in a row for Notre Dame in the Iowa series, the Hawkeyes won the first three in the eight game rivalry.

Ohio State Gains 7-7 Tie With Michigan; Will Go To Rose Bowl

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 19.—(AP)—A game Ohio State team hit the jackpot Saturday as it tied Michigan 7-7 to share western conference honors and grab a berth in the Rose Bowl game.

The Ohioans won the hard way. They fought from behind in the final period after Michigan had seized a seven point lead in the first eight minutes of play.

Today's deadlock left the teams tied with identical records of four wins, a tie and a loss in Big Ten competition. Michigan, which won the conference championship outright in 1947 and 1948 is not eligible "today's deadlock, etc." and ending "... in 1947."

Minnesota's 14-6 victory over Wisconsin today clinched the Rose Bowl trip for Ohio State.

Wisconsin might have tied Had Wisconsin won, it would have

Three-I League Drops Springfield For Cedar Rapids

Chicago, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Club owners of the Three-I Class B league today voted membership to the Cedar Rapids, Iowa, club to replace Springfield, Ill. Springfield was dropped over the protest of John E. MacWherter, president of the Springfield club.

Cedar Rapids withdrew from the Class C Central association to join the "Three-I" circuit. Adam Pratt, Jr., and associates purchased the Springfield franchise from the parent, St. Louis Browns. MacWherter asked that action be deferred until Dec. 15, but this proposal was voted down 6 to 2.

The league voted to approve the operational change in the Davenport, Iowa, franchise which will be assigned to the Quad-City Athletic association, Inc., a group of Davenport business men who will operate the club.

The club owners also voted to limit the final Shughnessy playoffs to three out of five games instead of the present four out of seven. The 1946 championship was awarded to the Evansville, Ind., club, with Davenport winning the playoff. Hereafter the player to be recognized as the batting champion must have participated in 100 or more games.

The task of drafting a schedule for the 1950 season may be completed before the conclusion of tomorrow's session. The general opinion is that the season will open on Sunday, April 23 and close Labor Day.

Pitt Overpowers Penn State 19-0

Pittsburgh, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Lou (Bimbo) Ceconi, gaunt little Pitt halfback, wound up his college football career in a blaze of glory Saturday as he led the Panthers to a 19-0 conquest of traditional rival Penn State.

Ceconi scored twice and pitched a pass for the third touchdown. A chilled crowd of 44,571 huddled under blankets as intermittent snow squalls and freezing rains alternately pelted them.

Pitt assumed command at the start. The first Pitt touchdown came on a beautifully executed play in the first quarter. Quarterback Carl Depasqua, of Williamsport, Pa., later-erred to Ceconi who galloped to his left 35 yards for the score. Nick Bokovac missed the point.

In the third period Depasqua pitched a pass to halfback Paul Chess, of Meadville, Pa.

Chess took the flip and embroidered his way for 56 yards to the State eight. Little Bombo slanted off his own right tackle on the first play for the score. This time "big Nick" kicked it.

Tennessee Clips Kentucky 6 To 0

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 19.—(AP)—Flashy, young Hank Lauricella fired underdog Tennessee to an upset 6-0 football victory here Saturday that brought an end to Kentucky's bid for its first Southeastern conference grid title.

While Lauricella was picking up vital yardage to give Tennessee the upper hand throughout, it was two quick breaks late in the opening period that brought about the lone Vol tally.

First, J. W. Sherill intercepted a pass to start Tennessee's drive from the Kentucky 36. Next it was a 15-yard rushing penalty against Kentucky that put the ball on the one.

Gordon Polofsky leaped over center for the touchdown and that was the end, as far as the scoring was concerned.

GEORGIA TECH NIPS SOUTH CAROLINA 13-3

Atlanta, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Georgia Tech football team, which usually does the upsetting, was well on its way to a drastic upending by weak South Carolina Saturday when it finally worked up some steam to win, 13-3.

In the fourth quarter Darrell Crawford, Colin Anderson, Buster Humphreys and Bobby North turned the Tech attack from a lamb-like pace to a whirlwind. Two touchdowns and a point after kick by Red Patton snatched the game from a going the rest of the way thanks to a key block of end John Emery.

Two of the two scores were in the last half. The first was a 13-3 victory, the second a 3-0 victory.

Griffith At 80 Has No Intention Of Quitting Nats

Washington, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Clark Griffith becomes 80 years old tomorrow, but he has no intention of quitting baseball.

Instead, the white-haired owner of the Washington Senators who was one of the American league's founders has but one thing on his mind—and that's a pennant winner.

"I've had offers to sell the Washington ball club," Griffith said today, "and I've turned 'em all down."

"My future plans are to build a pennant winner, and Bucky Harris and I are working on the project now."

When asked how it feels to become baseball's second octogenarian Philadelphia's 87-year-old Connie Mack is the other—Griffith said with a twinkle in his eye.

"It doesn't feel any different than any other birthday. I don't feel any older. In fact, I feel just like I was going to carry on for another 80 years."

Washington wound up in the cellar in the 1949 season.

Gophers Come Back To Beat Wisconsin 14-6 In Thriller

Minneapolis, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Minnesota put on a second-half surge to defeat Wisconsin, 14-6, in the final game of the year for both teams.

The Gophers had to come from behind to turn the trick. Wisconsin exhibited a fighting spirit that enabled them to outplay the Gophers and enjoy a 6-0 lead at the end of the first half.

But Minnesota's advantage in weight and power proved too much for Wisconsin and the Gophers passed for one touchdown in the third period and ran for another early in the final period to win. End Gordy Soltan contributed both points after touchdown.

Fullback Gene Evans was Wisconsin's offensive star. He contributed several important gains to the Badger attack in the first half besides making a spectacular 62-yard gallop down the sidelines on a punt return for Wisconsin's line score.

Midway in the third period the Gophers caught up with the tiring Badgers. They worked the ball into Wisconsin territory and then halfback Bud Hausken raced into the end zone to snatch halfback George Hudak's 25-yard pass. That tied the score and Soltan's kick put the Gophers ahead.

The fourth period opened with Minnesota on Wisconsin's 35-yard line. Power plays moved the ball down to the seven, from where halfback Dick Gregory went over, standing up.

Both teams went into the game with a possible chance at the Rose Bowl. A Wisconsin victory would have given the Badgers a tie for first place with Michigan and Ohio and equal claim with Ohio to the Rose Bowl trip. Michigan and Ohio tied today, 7-7.

Minnesota needed an Ohio defeat along with its own victory for Rose Bowl consideration.

A crowd of 59,000—the largest ever to attend a game in Oklahoma—saw George Thomas, sooner halfback, make three of Oklahoma's four touchdowns for a new Big Seven conference scoring record.

His 105 points bettered the 97 made in 1942 by Missouri's Bob Steuber. Although Oklahoma was never behind, Santa Clara was always a threat. It was this same team that gave Oklahoma its last defeat, 20-17, in the opening game of last season.

Wheaton To Play Western In Corn Bowl Thanksgiving

Bloomington, Ill., Nov. 19.—(AP)—J. W. Scott, chairman of the Corn Bowl football committee, tonight named Wheaton college to oppose Western State in the Thanksgiving Day game here Nov. 24.

Wheaton finished undefeated in Little Nine competition, bowing only to Valparaiso of Indiana, 21-13, in an inter-sectional contest.

Western, IIAC champions, lost one game in nine starts, losing to Wayne university of Detroit, 33-14.

Benny Friedman, Michigan All-American of 1926 and current athletic director at Brandeis University, was head football coach at City College of New York from 1934 to 1941.

FAN BREEZES

All that remains is the formality of inviting the Buckeyes of Ohio State to Pasadena where they'll try their hand at plucking the California roses on New Years Day. We trust that they, like their predecessors, will find rose bush thorns quite impotent against horny-handed veterans of Big 10 wars.

Ray Eliot's brash young Illinois eleven was cuffed pretty rudely by the "grand old men" from Northwestern, to put the damper on any hopes that the Champaign boys might have for the western junket. The tribe had an outside chance to get the bid 'til late in the fourth period Saturday afternoon.

Brusson, Northwestern's Rose Bowl quarterback, drove a 22-yard field goal 'twixt the uprisings to give the visitors a 9-7 margin.

Adding insult to injury, Brusson let it be known after the game that it was the first time he had ever attempted such a boot. We know his secret is horseshoes.

Twenty Northwestern seniors were playing their last game for the Evanstonians. Illinois, loaded with sophomore talent, is spending this Sunday afternoon licking wounds and planning revenge tactics for the next campaign.

Though Johnny Karras, the Argo Express, showed flashes of brilliance against a rugged Wildcat line, it was Ronny Clark who carried the mail for Illinois—when the ball was carried. The speedy Clark flashed a pair of "crazy legs" on several occasions. However, he was held in check by the somewhat dubious quarterbacking of Illinois field generals.

Maybe there was method in his madness but when Bernie Krueger passed on third down with only one yard to go for a first and ten, we almost jumped off the stadium roof. By the by—the pass didn't connect. So, on the fourth down, still with one-yard to go—the boys elected to send Bert Schmidt, a line plunging fullback, around end. He almost picked up a first down, for Northwestern.

We were expecting a call from the Illinois bench any minute to come down and push the ball forward that one precious yard with our nose. Oh, well, maybe we just don't understand the big time "cross 'em up" strategy.

If that's strategy, we'll take a fudge-nut sundae. A more pleasant way to get a "belly" full, at any rate.

Nebraska Whips Colorado 25-14
Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 19.—(AP)—Nebraska and Colorado fought a wild and wooly football game here Saturday with Nebraska winning 25 to 14 before 32,000 fans.

The weather, too, joined in the oddities, hitting a high of 71, equal to the day's record high, as the game started.

For Nebraska, the win meant a share of third place in the Big Seven conference while for Colorado it meant the cellar. Nebraska won three and lost three in conference play. Colorado won one and lost four.

Normal Slams Wesleyan 29 To 0
Bloomington, Ill., Nov. 19.—(AP)—Illinois State Normal, capitalizing on every break, trounced arch rival Illinois Wesleyan, 29-0 Saturday in their 57th inter-sectional football game.

Normal intercepted or grounded every forward pass attempted by Gib Beacher, Wesleyan's star passer. The score was 16-0 at the half after Normal had gained an early lead on a safety by Ralph Lesnick.

Scoring honors were shared by John Dal Santo, Milton Kadlec, Dean Burridge and Dick Baldrini.

Purdue Keeps Old Jaken Bucket By Whipping Indiana

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 19.—(AP)—A couple of short runs by fullback John Kerestes at the end of 95-yard marches brought Purdue university a 14-6 victory over Indiana Saturday and kept the old oaken bucket in Lafayette.

Indiana finished the season without a Western conference victory but end Clifton Anderson of Cape May, N. J., set two league records.

Anderson caught a 15-yard pass from Nick Sebek that gave him 20 and 317 yards for six conference games.

Old records were 13 catches by Purdue's Bill Canfield in 1945 and 309 yards by Michigan's Dick Rifenburt in 1948.

Indiana's young squad shook loose its sophomore sprinters for several long gains but the steady pounding of Purdue's veteran backs were down the Hoosier line. Purdue gained 359 yards to I.U.'s 123.

The 52nd annual Hoosier football classic packed Memorial Stadium with nearly 34,000 fans in spite of a chilly wind that whistled almost straight down the field. It blew so hard at times the officials had to hold the ball between plays.

A couple of fine punts against the wind by Indiana's sophomore Bobby Robertson forced Purdue to travel almost the length of the field for its two scores. Robertson played the entire game without relief.

The victory gave Wheaton the right to face Western State in the Corn Bowl game at Bloomington Thanksgiving Day.

Millikin, trailing 7-6 at the half, came to life with one minute left and scored three touchdowns. Don Hess hit Hal Wisenmeyer twice and Dick Farramore returned a Wheaton kickoff for 88 yards and a third touchdown.

Chuck Schoenherr, little All-America candidate, made a triumphant farewell appearance for Wheaton as he racked up three touchdowns, two on long runs and the other on a line plunge. Don Shroyer scored the fourth touchdown for the visitors, going over from the one-foot line in the first quarter.

Wheaton is undefeated in conference competition, bowing only to Valparaiso university of Indiana, 21-13, in an inter-sectional contest.

It was Bradley's first conference victory since they joined the Missouri Valley this season.

Bob Flanagan, second-leading ground gainer in the conference, scored twice for the visitors as did Bill Tuttle. Gerald Stamp opened the Bradley scoring with a field goal early in the first period. He also converted twice in four tries.

Wiley Proposes Legislating By TV
Washington, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Senator Wiley (R-Wis.), who has repeatedly expressed concern over the possibility of an atomic attack that would destroy the capital, suggested today that Congress consider plans for:

1. Legislating by television.
2. Administering the nation's affairs from a mobile capital, mounted on a railroad train.

At the same time, he renewed his demands that defense planners take immediate steps to disperse key government units.

He expressed skepticism that any plans have been made for dispersion and defense of the civilian population in the event of a sudden emergency.

He said legislators could gather around television sets in 30 or 40 points scattered around the nation and cast their votes.

OKLAHOMA AGGIES BEST WICHITA 47-20
Stillwater, Okla., Nov. 19.—(AP)—Oklahoma A & M out-scored Wichita, 47-20, here Saturday in a rough and rugged Missouri Valley football game.

Only 12,000 spectators watched the clash that saw three players ejected and 10 carried from the field with injuries. Twenty-three penalties totaling 215 yards were assessed.

Officials called five penalties on five straight plays at one point in the first period. Holding, slugging and general misconduct subsided somewhat during the second half.

Wildcats Ruin Illini Homecoming 9-7 With 22-Yard Field Goal

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 19.—(AP)—The first field goal ever attempted by senior quarterback Don Brusson etched a thrilling 9-7 Northwestern victory over favored Illinois before 67,872 Illini homecoming fans Saturday.

Burson's 22-yard payoff boot, following a 57-yard punt return by halfback Tom Worthington, came with only three minutes left in the season finale for both Big Ten teams.

Burson is Wildcat hero
Burson was a shining Northwestern hero in his last collegiate game, also firing a second period touchdown pass to end Joe Zuravlev to give the Wildcats a 6-0 halftime lead.

Illinois, its vaunted ground attack sputtering wastefully all day, finally scored at the outset of the fourth period on a short pass from Bernie Krueger to Walt Kersulis.

When Sam Rebecca place-kicked the extra point, Illinois led 7-6. The missed conversion try after Northwestern's touchdown seemed certain to be the game's difference.

But then came Burson's Merriwell touch—the field goal try. A reserve halfback Bob Meeder, who never before had tried it, held the ball. Illinois halfback Johnny Karras added 61 yards to his newly-established Big Ten ground-gaining record for a seven game total of 732. Karras was hurt in the second period and in the second half carried only five times for four yards.

Illini Outrushed Northwestern
Illinois banged away for 227 yards rushing on 54 running plays, compared with Northwestern's 178 net on 47 tries. Illini drives were halted three times within Northwestern's 25, once on the Wildcat 12.

Northwestern picked up 89 aerial yards on Burson's six completions in 18 attempts, and it was the passing threat of the cool Wildcat quarterback which kept the Illini off-balance all afternoon.

After a scoreless first quarter, Northwestern marched 80 yards for its touchdown in 10 plays. It came midway in the second period on an

The 33rd annual endrider-to-the-between-the-west's oldest college rivalry was witnessed by an overflow crowd of more than 90,000.

California racked up its tenth consecutive win of the season in a not only grabbing the undisciplined Illini to the conference title but the certain bid to return to the big bowl classic at Pasadena.

The victory was thoroughly convincing. California had the power straight down the middle, with its clever quarterback, Bob Celeri, at the helm.

The California line shattered the Stanford forward wall and made gaping holes for the backfield men to tear through.

For the first time this season, however, California was behind at halftime. After scoring on a 55-yard touchdown pass to take a 6-0 lead in the opening period, the Bears suddenly found themselves behind by a point early in the second quarter.

Southern Cal Beats UCLA 21-7
Los Angeles, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Southern California's Trojans, riding on the gifted southpaw pitching of a fourth string quarterback named Dean Schneider, defeated the Bruins of UCLA Saturday, 21 to 7, in their annual cross-town duel.

The decision, unrecalled before 75,023 fans, automatically rubbed UCLA out of the Rose Bowl picture although California's victory over Stanford has already precluded a Bruin title share.

The Trojans broke a 7-7 deadlock in the last four minutes of the game and added another touchdown in the final seconds, cashing in on a gift opportunity.

Schneider, the lowly sub who was called into the spotlight just five days ago when Coach Jeff Cravath lost Jim Powers, the best of his three leading T-quarterbacks, more than met the task with a cool job of signal-calling and some lefthanded passing that spelled two touchdowns.

It was Baylor's first victory over SMU since 1936 and puts the conference title and the host spot in the Cotton Bowl up to next Saturday's game at Houston between Baylor and Rice. Rice now had undefeated in conference play by beating Texas Christian 20-14. Baylor has lost one game but by beating Rice can tie for the title and get the Cotton Bowl bid.

A crowd of 63,000 watched Baylor break away for two touchdowns in less than nine minutes then hold on easily against a great exhibition by Walker who scored three touchdowns.

Yale Pulverizes Harvard 29 To 6
New Haven, Conn., Nov. 19.—(AP)—Desperate Yale pulverized battered Harvard, 29 to 6 Saturday to win the consolation prize among the "Big Three" footballers and salvage the big game in a mediocre campaign.

A slashing first half scoring spree brought the prized triumph to the blue.

Yale won the climactic contest for Levi Jackson, its Negro captain, and 300 pound head coach Herman Hickman and when the exciting battle had ended, both were carried away on the shoulders of the blue squad.

The season's biggest Yale bowl crowd of 61,000 thrilled in the nippy air as the Bulldogs rolled up 23 points in the first half to wrap up the ball game. And the hero of the scoring spree was Jackson, who closed his brilliant collegiate football career playing with a taped ankle.

SYRACUSE CRUSHES COLGATE 35 TO 7
Syracuse, N. Y., Nov. 19.—(AP)—Syracuse University's football forces crushed Colgate 35 to 7. Saturday before a record crowd of 26,500 fans.

The blanketed throng saw Coach Floyd Schwartz Waider's Orange close out the first season under his regime with its fourth triumph in nine games at the expense of the outclassed Red Raiders.

Senior George Davis ended by scoring twice in the five times Syracuse crossed the oft-beaten Raiders' goal line.

Georgia Defeats Duquesne 40 To 0
Athens, Ga., Nov. 19.—(AP)—Georgia capitalized on breaks to defeat Duquesne in an inter-sectional football game Saturday 40 to 0.

The Bulldogs, unable to penetrate the big opposing line, turned intercepted passes and recovered fumbles into quick touchdowns much to the delight of the partisan crowd of 20,000.

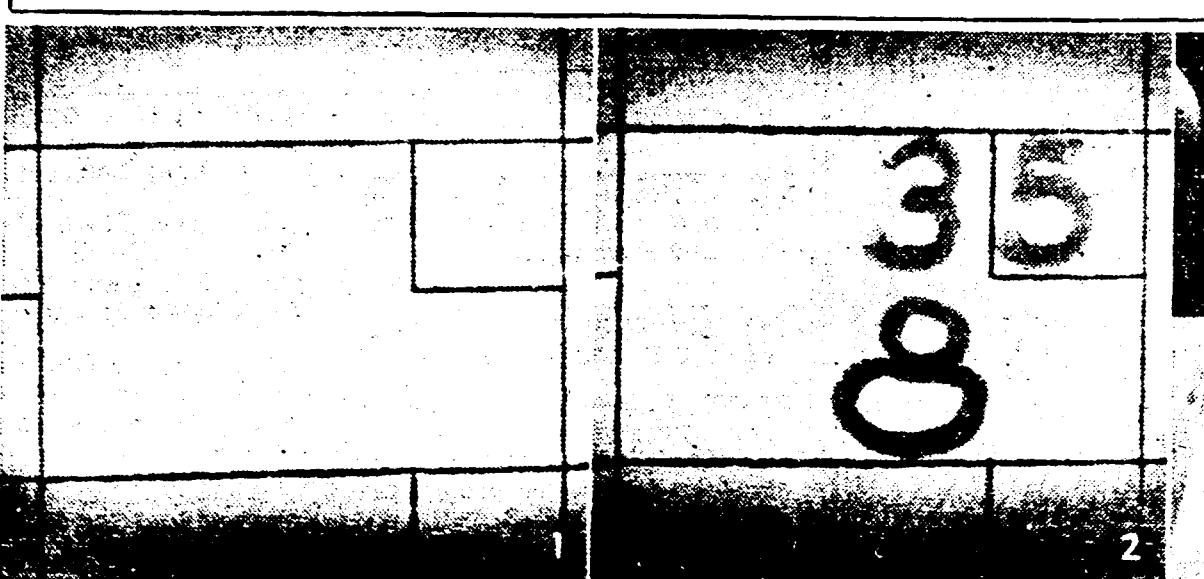

Late in the first period Ma Cook heaved a 21-yard pass to Gene Lorde for first score. It was the first score of the season for the big end, although he has caught 24 aerials.

The CAMEO
By Virginia Teale

Copyright, 1949, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Police are still searching for clues in the murder of Martin Felter, artist and blackmailer. In questioning Andrew Yakov, one of the suspects, and searching his house, they found nothing. But Yakov has stolen some letters from Felter's place.

continues the search. The daughter of Natasha would be invaluable at this time. But who is to say where the girl might be found?

Slowly deliberate, he rested his elbows on his knees and pinched his lower lip between thumb and forefinger. His eyes were fiercely intent as he stared into the flames. His body stiffened, he snapped his fingers, then sprang from his chair to pace the room.

The cat questioned him in her peculiar hoarse voice.

"It could be she!" Yakov exclaimed. "It could conceivably be she! The blue-eyed Miss Smith, the friend and assistant of Miss Hagar Blair!"

STEPHANIE, standing at the broad front windows of the Three Wishes Shop, looked at her watch and saw that it registered 3 o'clock. Hagar had promised to return by 4—she had gone to talk to Nell O'Neill about the cameo.

Hagar had, at first, been in favor of informing Nell that Stephanie was her niece and the rightful owner of the lock, then demanding that the cameo be returned to her. But Stephanie had argued that this would accomplish nothing. Nell was sure to claim that the cameo had been given to her by Natasha, Stephanie's mother.

She recalled again, bitterly, the circumstances surrounding Nell's theft of the lock. Her aunt had started operations by hammering at her sister that the lock should be sold to insure Stephanie's future. Natasha had held back a final decision but had permitted her sister to take the lock to an appraiser.

And that was the last they had seen of Nell. Or of the lock.

Today, presumably, Hagar was finding out whether Nell suspected the whereabouts of the cameo. Also, Hagar planned to let fall the information that she knew Nellya had no right to the piece. Backed by her authority as a well-known collector, Hagar would announce that she knew the entire story of the cameo, including the identity of its current legal owner.

A car slid to a stop in front of the shop. Stephanie drew a sharp, deep breath as she recognized the driver! It was that young man again, Mr. Reddy, the police chief's assistant! He was here to ask more questions, she felt sure of it. And Hagar wasn't here to parry them this time!

THE customer-bell tinkled as he entered. Stephanie braced herself.

"Hello," he began pleasantly, "all alone today?"

She gave him a nervous smile and a slight nod. She watched him saunter here and there in the shop, looking at things, picking them up and putting them carefully down. He stood for a few seconds in front of the cameo cabinet, hands in the pockets of his gray flannel trousers.

He met her eyes: "Miss Blair out?"

"Yes," Stephanie heard the word come out as a soft squeak. She cleared her throat and tried again: "Yes. She had some business to—attend to. Did you want to see her?"

"Not especially," he answered. "Much rather talk to you. Have you any new and bright ideas on the Cameo Case?"

Observing his grin, she relaxed a little. "The Cameo Case?"

His tone was casually friendly. "Better yet, we could call it the 'Case of the Carnelian Cameo.' It would help some if I knew what the thing looked like. Everybody who's seen it gives me a different picture. You've seen it, haven't you? Why not give me your description?"

Stephanie felt fidgety. Her eyes probed the back of Reddy's head—he was again looking into the cameo cabinet.

"I suppose," he said, "it's a lot more impressive than any of these others."

"Oh yes!" She couldn't seem to curb her enthusiasm.

Our Saviour's, Three Other Hospitals Join In Educational Work

By Helen Armstrong

The proposed expanded and enriched curricula of Our Saviour's Hospital School of Nursing will go into effect next September, according to the joint announcement of Sister Claudine, administrator of the hospital, and Sister Clare Anne, director of the school.

The two Jacksonville nuns spent the early days of last week at St. Mary's College, Notre Dame, Ind., in a conference on the organization of nurse education by the Sisters of the Holy Cross in the midwest.

According to the new plan, the four hospital schools of the Holy Cross Sisters in Illinois and Indiana are combining their resources in the newly established Holy Cross Central School of Nursing affiliated with St. Mary's College.

Outstanding feature of the set-up, according to Sister Claudine, is a competent faculty for the central school and the four participating schools. "The major problem of the past," Sister Claudine said, "has been that the attracting qualified teachers to the small school."

New for the Jacksonville unit will be a curriculum in community and rural public health nursing, which will be open to the affiliates of the other participating schools.

The qualified high school graduate of this area will complete her pre-nursing program in Jacksonville. As a student of Our Saviour's School of Nursing, she will spend the first
